Brian Thompson United HealthCare Murder

Posted on December 7, 2024 by jamesq

Using the Fantasy Free Advantage, light of reality, the Brian Thompson murder has every appearance of a mob hit. As far back as 2016, I started writing articles to the effect that organized crime runs the healthcare industry. Organized Crime Runs Healthcare

It takes society a long time to figure these things out. After such , an awakening no longer matters. Mob involvement in the JFK assassination has only recently become common knowledge.

Naturally, a mob hit was my first suspicion.

The mob murders for many different reasons. United HealthCare.... along with Thompson, must answer questions in a serious investigation. Probably, there was concern that he might say the wrong thing. This could also be a message to other high – ranking members of the healthcare elite , to stay the course and not blow their beets in even the slightest way.

The gunman escaped. Where is he? Why hasn't he been found? If he stays missing, that will be a dead giveaway that it was a mob murder. If he dies before or after being found, that is also an important indication.

I doubt that the syndicate in charge had any idea that the U.S. public would respond the way they have. Possibly, in terms of their interests, the murder may turn out to be a huge mistake on their part.
