

Historical Accuracy of Bible

Posted on February 10, 2025

We would all be better off, if it was determined that everything written in the bible happened just as presented. Certainly, the stories themselves convey messages that are true whether the facts in the stories actually occurred or never took place.

Which are more important, facts or principles? Principles never change. Facts don't change either but they get disproven and sometimes conflict with each other. Jesus lives among us spiritually, due to our understanding of his principles

So far, I have never found a principle written down in the bible that was incorrect or flawed in any form. In my work, principles are what count. Facts are nice to have, I let others debate what actually happened or what was added or embellished.
